General Information

Target group

The seminar is intended for future working party Chairs and Deputy Chairs

Description

The Presidency plays a central role in managing the formulation of Council decisions. A successful Presidency depends in particular on the abilities of the working party Chairs and their teams to ensure momentum and achieve results in a complex multinational arena. This seminar looks into the strategic, logistical, procedural and practical actions recurred to successfully manage a Council working party during a Presidency in the post-Lisbon architecture.

Method

The seminar is deliberately interactive and consists of a mixture of presentations, case studies and a simulation exercise. It discusses the relationship between the Presidency and the institutions, whilst providing a forum for debate in the context and preparation of the Presidency. It is organised around the practical aspects of preparing and chairing the meetings and designing the agencies. Finally, it offers an opportunity for participants to discuss their future work with each other, with representatives from the EU institutions and with officials who have had recent experience in chairing working parties.

Objectives

After this information seminar which includes a series of presentations, a simulation exercise and previous chairs sharing their experience, the participants will know how to:

- work with the procedures for conducting meetings (as specified in the Council's Rules of Procedure) and for decision making in the EU;
- find their way around the prerogatives and missions set out for the different Presidency functions by the Lisbon Treaty;
- develop scenarios for negotiations;
- use tools for reaching compromises;
- improve/refresh skills when it comes to leading meetings;
